About the World Allergy Organization (WAO)

The World Allergy Organization (WAO) is an international umbrella organization whose members consist of 115 regional and national allergology and clinical immunology societies from around the world.

The World Allergy Organization's mission, as a world-wide alliance of allergy and clinical immunology societies, is to be a global resource and advocate for the specialty, advancing awareness and excellence in clinical care through education, research, and training.

WAO Member Society Categories

There are five categories of WAO Membership. If you are a member of one of WAO's 115 Member Societies, then you are automatically an individual member of WAO.

Benefits as a WAO Member Society

WAO is a federation of regional and national allergology and clinical immunology societies. The following benefits help elevate our member societies and unite our global network.

Contribute to WAO governance and advance the field globally.

Regional nominating groups and national societies appoint members to the WAO House of Delegates and Board of Directors. This global representation extends members the right to vote and influence WAO governance.

Request a WAO Speaker for your local conference.

Your society may request a WAO speaker to present in your local conference program. If your speaker request is approved by WAO leadership, WAO will provide a speaker and endorsement of your conference.

Promote your Conference to the WAO International Meetings Calendar.

Expand your marketing reach by adding your upcoming scientific meetings to the WAO Member Events Calendar. Additionally, meetings endorsed by WAO may be included in the WAO email newsletter, which reaches nearly 40,000 individuals all over the world.

Co-Host a World Allergy Congress (WAC).

WAO partners with one of its member societies to co-host the annual World Allergy Conference (WAC). Successful conferences may lead to shared profits as well as worldwide recognition and the chance to exhibit excellence in allergy and immunology in your country or region.

Invest in Education.

Income from WAO Member Society dues each year directly funds Educational and Outreach programs including:

- WAO Centers of Excellence
- World Allergy Training Schools (WATS)
- World Allergy Week
- WAO Online Education
- World Allergy Forum (WAF)
- and so much more!

Benefits as an Individual Member

Any individual who is an active member of a WAO Member Society becomes an individual member of WAO and is entitled to the benefits below.

Receive WAO Meeting Discounts.

Registration costs for WAO members and WAO Junior Members are discounted for WAO conferences, including in-person and virtual events.

Participate in WAO Scientific Committees.

WAO members participate in scientific committees, working groups, and advisory boards that form and implement WAO activities and programs.

Advance through Professional Networks.

Your WAO membership comes with the privilege of belonging to the largest international allergy and clinical immunology organization!

Engage in Junior Member Opportunities.

This international network of early career allergists contributes to the development of scientific papers, educational sessions at WAO meetings, and other initiatives.
